Washington, March 26 (P)—John L. Lewis today notified bituminous coal operators he will end their present contract this Sunday at midnight and 400,000 miners will "stay home with their families" next week.

Lewis, at a news conference, said "there will be no miners' blood spilled" next week and that lives will be saved and injuries averted. The United Mine Workers' president said there will be no extension of the current contract, making it clear he will insist on a new agreement before the soft coal miners return to work.

Lewis said the action is being taken "at a time when it will be least inconvenient to the public." There are close to 47,000,000 tons of coal in storage, he added.

He estimated that for the last couple of weeks the weekly output has averaged 13,000,000 tons, a record for the industry.

Continue Negotiations
Lewis said negotiations with the soft coal operators will continue and that "anytime we reach agreement we will try to make it effective at the earliest possible moment."

Lewis told reporters that the counter proposals submitted by the operators yesterday were a "mumble jumble of something entirely unsatisfactory and not responsive to the necessities of the occasion."

The miners traditionally follow a "no contract, no work" policy.

As the day arrived on which the United Mine Workers leader may move to cancel the present year-old agreement, effective at midnight Sunday, the operators and a committee of UMW representatives reached a critical phase in negotiations toward a new pact.

The operators have presented to Lewis a summation of their position on the nine general proposals he submitted. This in effect amounted to a declaration of counter-offers—without getting too specific.

See No Progress
Lewis did not throw out the proposition immediately, so the operators decided to remain silent until the UMW leader makes clear his reaction. The fact that the miners' negotiating committee still had it under study was taken to be slightly encouraging. At least it was keeping the negotiations alive another day.

This was the 15th day provided in the contract for negotiations, and nobody in or out of the conferences would say he could detect even slight progress.

Lewis, however, seemed in good spirits yesterday as he entered the contract negotiations. And he came out whistling.

The union leader summoned his anthracite scale committee to Washington today, to decide procedure for terminating the hard coal contract covering 75,000 Pennsylvania miners. The anthracite contract is timed to expire, if Lewis wants to terminate it, a month after the bituminous agreement.

COUNTY BOARD DEFERS ACTION ON SICK LEAVE

Members of the Adams county Board of School Directors discussed a new, uniform set of rules governing sick leave for the teachers in the various school districts of the county at their meeting in the court house Monday evening, but deferred action until the April meeting of the board. Members expressed approval of the tentative set of rules in general, but declared they would like time to go over the proposition in detail before arriving at a vote.

Dr. Robert A. Bream, assistant county school superintendent, who conducted a survey of sick leave plans in school districts and boroughs in Adams county which already have them, and plans in use in other districts, reported on the survey with copies of these plans, and submitted the tentative proposition for Adams county schools who do not have sick leave provisions for teachers.

The proposal prepared by the county superintendent's office combined, Doctor Bream said, what were believed to be the best features of the Biglerville, New Oxford, Chapman township in Clinton county and Waynesboro plans. As drawn up, Dr. Bream said, the sick leave plan may be adopted by each school district separately. The plan includes the following rules governing teacher absence:

Based on Service

All employees with five years or less service in Adams county shall be entitled to five days of absence each year without loss of salary.

Employees with more than five years of service in Adams county shall be entitled to a day of absence for each year of service, up to 10 years, without loss of salary.

In addition, all employees shall be entitled to one month's absence for each year of service in the county. During such absence the employee shall receive the difference between his or her regular salary (after deductions) and the substitute's pay.

George H. Stull Is Hurt In Auto Crash

George H. Stull, 19, son of Mrs. E. A. Keener, Gettysburg R. 3, Lincolnway west, suffered abdominal, head and face injuries in an automobile crash today, according to Hamman, N. J., police.

The Associated Press report of the mishap stated Stull and Samuel S. Muffill, 20, Pleasantville, N. J., sailors at the Philadelphia Naval Base, occupied the car. Muffill told police he lost control of the car and that it hit a tree.

Stull, a veteran of three years' service including a tour of duty in the Pacific, recently re-enlisted in the navy.

TELLS OF RADAR WORK WITH U.S. ARMY AND NAVY

Raymond T. Garman, Sr., assistant professor of chemistry at Gettysburg college, described his work with the army and navy in a talk on the "Development and Use of Radar" before the Rotary club at its regular Monday evening meeting in the YWCA.

As radar technician for the army and navy Professor Garman traveled throughout the Pacific area visiting radar installations.

He outlined the development of radar during the four years of war and detailed the various types of radar and the manner they work.

He also paid tribute to General Douglas MacArthur, who, Garman said, "seems to know the thinking of the Japanese people so well they cannot even lie to him." From what he has seen of Japan, Garman thinks MacArthur is doing a job that "no one else could do."

Conservative Japs

The Japanese are a conservative people and make their pleasures last a long time, Garman added. He told of giving the eldest of six youngsters a bar of chocolate. "You or I would eat the chocolate in two gulps. But I watched the kids. The eldest scraped the bar over the teeth of the younger ones and then scraped off a little for himself, then put the bar away. As a result they were eating candy for several days. The same method is used by Japanese in smoking a cigarette. They cut it into six parts, so one cigarette lasts a long time. I've seen one Jap eat at a candy bar for 10 days."

Early radar presented a screen which only showed that "something was present, not how many or what," Garman told the Rotarians. "But the early radar and the radar at the end of the war were two different things. On one type of radar there were 162 changes. It was difficult for us to keep up on radar while out with the navy, and many times I would be called to a ship and find there a radar set that I had never heard of before. But we still had to repair it."

MEDICAL GROUP IS OPPOSING PENDING BILL

The Adams County Medical Society today was circulating forms seeking the support of countians in opposition to the establishment of a federal over-all national medical service program.

The forms, to be signed by Adams county residents of voting age only, list four objections to the federal bill and conclude "Therefore I desire to be on record as opposed to these bills (S. 1606 and H. R. 4730) and I herewith authorize the elected officers of the Adams County Medical Society to use my name in communicating with my duly elected representative in Congress at Washington or in the legislature at Harrisburg on subjects of federal and state legislation affecting the public health."

List of Objections

The form lists the following objections to the proposed bill:

"1. Under certain conditions according to the provisions in the bill, you may not have your family doctor attend you in your illnesses or injuries. The Surgeon-General of the United States Public Health Service will have the authority to assign you a physician."

"2. A controversial medical care plan such as these bills provide for, if enacted by the federal Congress, is unnecessary in the United States. We have one of the best and most progressive health records in the world, which is now being developed in orderly evolutionary steps toward the correction of admitted deficiencies in the distribution, to the people, of medical service and its costs."

"3. The cost of the proposed over-all national sickness service program would be tremendous. The bills mention 3 per cent of the payroll of the United States. In reality, it will require at least 8 per cent to 15 per cent of the total payroll of the United States, which must be raised by taxes from each citizen. The cost is therefore prohibitive. The administrative cost alone of such a program under government bureaucratic control will be greater than the cost of the medical service because such plans invariably lead to employment of many local panel clerks and inspectors, probably two or three to every physician, and the usual expense of district offices to house the supervisory employees."

"4. This is a very important step in the destruction of our democratic system of government and is part of the totalitarian trend."

SOFTBALL LOOP TO BE FORMED

Formation of a community softball league will be attempted at a meeting Thursday evening at 7 o'clock at the fire engine house. All fraternal organizations, stores or anyone interested in placing a team are asked to attend the meeting as well as those interested in the welfare of the league.

Ribbentrop Accepts Blame For Acts As Foreign Chief

Nuernberg, March 26 (P)—Joachim Von Ribbentrop told the international military tribunal today he accepted full responsibility for his acts as foreign minister of Germany, but was pleading innocent on all counts of the war crimes indictment.

The gaunt silver-haired Nazi followed the example of Hermann Goering and Rudolf Hess in opening his personal defense.

The court ruled out defense evidence intended to prove that the Versailles treaty was unjust and was signed by Germany "under duress." Sir David Maxwell Fyfe, British prosecutor, said the defense claim was "completely remote, irrelevant and beyond the terms of the tribunal's charter."

Defense attorneys had launched a five-point attack upon the treaty and the prosecution's charge that the Nazis conspired to break the treaty with the aim of waging aggressive war.

"We are 100 per cent for the Daylight Saving Time," says a communication from the National Garage company, signed by D. C. Forney, C. S. Menchey, C. R. Howard, H. B. Tonsil, Paul H. Ketterman, and Harry L. Ketterman.

"I am a resident of McKnightstown and am in favor of Daylight Saving Time, as well as many of my neighbors. Time is too valuable to be losing hours in the morning that can be put to good use," says "A Subscriber."

"In reply to your request for opinions on the changing of the time I would like to know why, if some people wish to begin an hour earlier they do not begin an hour earlier and leave the time alone?"

"Must they have the time changed to suit themselves and inconvenience other people? The changing of the time is the most ignorant thing I have ever heard of and is purely selfishness. You will have to admit the sun makes the time and turning the clocks in one place and not every place is ridiculous. I do hope the people who know better will be able to hold to the right thing of going to work when they please but forever leave the time alone," says "A Reader of The Gettysburg Times" from Aspers.

From a number of Gettysburgians who work in Harrisburg, and who commute each day have come verbal appeals to The Times to plead for Daylight Saving Time and bus schedules are changed to conform with Daylight time they will be unable to reach their work on time unless they travel in private cars.

Opinions of local residents are being sought on this annual question. Write us what you think. It will help the borough council reach a decision at its April meeting.

SAYS BRITAIN HAS DIFFICULT JOB IN INDIA

India was recommended to Gettysburg Lions by Daniel E. Teeter, who served with army counter-intelligence for 18 months in that country, as a place of absorbing interest for post-war travel.

Attorney Teeter was the speaker for the weekly dinner meeting of the local Lions Monday evening at the Trinity Evangelical and Reformed church. Fifty-one members and guests heard his talk on Indian life and customs.

The speaker said it was his opinion—and that of most American soldiers who have been to India—that Britain has a very difficult task on its hands in that nation of 400,000,000 where the great majority are illiterate. "We all came away feeling that we are mighty glad the United States doesn't have to try to do the job Britain has on its hands there," he said.

Tells of Travels

He also expressed the opinion, in connection with current talk of British offers of independence for the Indians, that if Britain should step out some other power would soon take over for the Indians seem incapable now of self-government. He credited the British with some progress in raising the level of living.

Mr. Teeter referred only briefly to his experiences as a member of the counter-intelligence corps of the military intelligence division but told of extensive travels across the land by rail, air and jeep, one crossing being made from Bombay to Calcutta by jeep in six and a half days in which 1,800 miles were covered.

He told of seeing the famed "black hole" of Calcutta and other special points of interest and described the villages which he said are typical of Indian life with its caste and religious distinctions. Hindu temples, places for the disposal of the dead, the ritualistic bathing in the sacred Ganges and other interesting sights he observed during his 18 months of army duty there were referred to by the speaker.

The club received a notice of a district testimonial dinner to be given the international president of the Lions at the Hotel Yorktown Monday evening, April 15.

Arrangements were completed for a veterans' night meeting next Monday at the farm of Clarence J. Waybright in Maryland near the state line. About 80 Lions and guests are expected to attend.

Monday night guests included Coxswain George Fair and Philip Neth of Gettysburg and Nick Michaeloff of Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

COUNTY'S NEW COW TESTER TO REPORT APRIL 1

Adams county's new cow tester, Stephen Heyser, employed March 18 by the directors of the Dairy Herd Improvement association, will begin his duties Monday, April 1. M. T. Hartman, county farm agent, announced today. Mr. Heyser is a returned veteran who recently completed the course for cow testers at State College.

"The association plans to start its new year April 1," Mr. Hartman said. "This would be an opportune time for anyone interested in doing testing work to join the association," he added. "Dairymen interested in additional information or in testing work should contact Mr. Heyser or the agricultural extension office at the court house."

Explaining the purposes of the association, Mr. Hartman said that it was an organization made up of dairy farmers who cooperatively employ a trained supervisor to keep complete records on their dairy herds.

Visits Dairyman

"The supervisor," he said, "spends one day each month with each dairyman to determine the production and compute the cost of maintaining each animal in the herd. The supervisor enters this information in a herd book, which shows each cow's average butterfat, total milk and butterfat production, gross income, feed cost and income above feed cost for each month. At the end of the year these records are summarized to get the totals for the year."

"From these records also are figured the first 300 five-day record for (Please turn to Page 2)

BOOKS GIVEN AS MEMORIALS

The presentation to the Adams County Free Library recently of three volumes in memory of individuals was announced today by Miss Kathryn Oiler, county librarian. "The books chosen in each case are indicative of special interests or traits in the lives of the persons honored," Miss Oiler said.

"Wildwood Wisdom" by Ellsworth Jaeger, was given in memory of Charles Whitcomb, of near York Springs, who was killed in action while serving overseas in the army. "Garden Flowers in Color" by Daniel J. Foley, honors Mrs. Hazel Peters Schaeffer, formerly of East Berlin and Heidersburg, and "The Anatomy of Peace" by Emery Reves, was given as a memorial to Frank Vanderwall, Hanover high school teacher who lived near Gettysburg until he was fatally injured in a traffic accident.

The name of the donors of the three volumes was not disclosed. Books given in memory of individuals are specially marked, Miss Oiler said.

The librarian also acknowledged the gift of two magazine subscriptions. Dr. Roy W. Gifford has subscribed to "Hygeia" for the library and Mr. and Mrs. C. Arthur Griest, Baltimore, formerly of this county, sent a "Coronet" subscription.

Divorce Decree Is Recommended

A recommendation for the granting of a divorce in favor of John P. Wright, against Dorothy Louise Wright, both of Gettysburg, was contained in the report of the master, Atty. J. Francis Yake, Jr., filed today in the office of Adams County Prothonotary Arthur H. Shields.

The recommendation was made on testimony introduced at a hearing February 21 in support of allegations of cruel and barbarous treatment. The couple was married at Camp Livingston, La., March 12, 1942, while the libellant was in the armed forces. They have one child.

COUNTY TAKES OVER 'AG' WORK FOR VETERANS

The placing of World War II veterans in Adams county in agricultural vocational training, under the Veterans' Administration will henceforth be handled by the Adams county Board of School Directors. Instead of by each separate school district. The directors, at their monthly meeting in the court house Monday night voted to sponsor the Pennsylvania Plan for World War II veterans.

The plan, which provides for farm training in the classroom and on the farm, the cost to be paid entirely by the Veterans Administration, was explained by Richard C. Lighter, vocational education advisor. Two plans are provided, the self-proprietorship, in which the veteran has purchased or taken over a farm, and desires farm training, and the veteran who seeks work on a farm to obtain training.

The first plan, Mr. Lighter said, schedules 300 hours of instruction a year, 200 of which shall be in classroom and 100 on the farm. The second plan is for 250 hours per year, with 200 hours spent in the classroom. It was first planned to provide as near as possible for individual instruction in the classroom, but because of the large number of applications, this has been changed of necessity, to instruction in small groups of from five to ten veterans, Mr. Lighter explained. Classroom instruction will be given in centers as convenient as possible to members of each group.

Has 25 Applications

The Veterans' Administration, he said, would pay the salary of the instructor, travel allowance, and for use of classroom facilities. A rate of $2 an hour for instruction, five cents a mile for travel to and from farms where veterans are working under the plan, and $5 a week for use of school space, was suggested in a tentative budget.

Under the original setup, Mr. Lighter said, each school district contracted with the Veterans' Administration. Under county sponsorship, if classes dwindle in one district, veterans may be shifted to another without changing the contract.

Mr. Lighter said he had received 25 applications in the three counties under his direction, six of which are from Adams county. He said that if 15 or more applications are approved for these courses, a full-time agricultural instructor can be employed. With less than this number, county agricultural teachers will take over the instruction.

Courses will cover from one to four years, he said, and he expected the setup to last for several years, because of the fact that men are still in the army, others are being inducted and the veteran has seven years in which to avail himself of the training.

DRASTIC CURBS CLAMPED TODAY ON ALL BUILDING

Washington, March 26 (AP)—The government, acting to speed construction of homes for veterans, today clamped drastic restrictions on building or repair of virtually all other structures.

The Civilian Production Administration issued a far-reaching order, effective at once, forbidding the start of any new commercial or industrial construction unless specifically authorized.

This applies to such things as stores, office buildings, roadhouses, theaters and factories.

The objective is to make more scarce building materials available for the 2,700,000 new homes the government is aiming at during the next two years.

Allowances Set
The measure, announced by National Housing Expediter Wilson W. Wyatt and CPA Administrator John D. Small, applies throughout the United States and in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

It permits completion of any construction already begun, provided "any of the materials which are to be an integral part of the structure have been incorporated in it on the site" before today, and if work is being carried on at present.

The order does not apply to construction, repair, alteration or installation jobs on which the cost does not exceed these allowances:

1. Houses designed for five or fewer families, also farmhouses or other structures, such as a garage, on residential property—$400 a job.
2. Hotel, resort, apartment house or other residential building designed for occupancy by more than five families—$1,000 a job.
3. Commercial or service establishment; such as office, store, garage, theater, warehouse, radio station, gas service station—$1,000 a job.

Can't Subdivide
4. Farm buildings including farmhouses—$1,000 a job.

5. Church, hospital, school, public building, charitable institution—$1,000 a job.

6. Factory, plant or other industrial structure used for manufacturing, processing or assembling; logging and lumber camp; pier structure for a commercial airport or carrier terminal; railway or street car building; research laboratory; pilot plant; motion picture set; utility structure, including telephone and telegraph; gas or petroleum refining or distribution, except service stations and garages—$15,000 a job.

7. Other structures—$200 a job.

Under the order, no job which ordinarily would be done as a single piece of work may be sub-divided for the purpose of coming within the cost allowance. However, a CPA official explained, there is no limit on the number of separate jobs which may be undertaken while the order is in effect.

beam from the antenna hit anything solid it bounced back to the antenna, was picked up, the echo was amplified and shown on a screen by the tubes that are used in television sets.

"What was shown depended on the type of set one had and what it was used for. In fire control only a dot was seen and when the dot reached the proper place the firing signal was given. With radar we could put a shell down the funnel of a ship beyond the horizon.

"The Scharnhorst got through the English channel by throwing up a counter radar screen which effectively blocked out the English radar. "The Germans sent back at our antenna a radar beam on the same frequency. As a result the English radar showed simply a lot of 'worms' crawling about and no sight of the German ship.

"The problem was solved more or less by accident and a system of counter-measures were then developed."

Forty-four members and guests attended the meeting at which President James Cairns presided. A nominating committee comprising Walter T. Africa, Wilbur Baker and Dr. Rasmus Saby was appointed to nominate officers for the coming year.

each lactation. These 300 five-day records are sent to the Bureau of Dairy Industry at Washington, D. C., where they are used in proving bulls and herd analyses.

"A calf book is also kept to include a complete record of all calves born giving date of birth, dam, sire, ear tag number and disposal of each calf. This record grows in importance with the number of years a dairyman remains in dairy herd improvement work since it is a complete history of identification of every animal. It is also important in the proving of bulls and cow families since it shows complete relationship of all animals in the herd.

Keep Production Record
"Life history sheets are kept which show the complete history of every cow's production of milk and butterfat by years, the first 300 five-day lactation record, freshening and dry dates, length of lactation, and any other information. These sheets show at a glance the complete history year by year of each animal of milking age. These records are of great service in comparing dam and daughter's productions, in proving bulls, and in herd analyses work.

Stable breeding sheets are kept at the barn and give a complete breeding history of every cow including breeding dates, heat periods and other information such as conditions at time of freshening and abortions. All this information is important in the development and improvement of a good herd of dairy cattle."

FOXWORTH HAS LOOK OF CHAMP

New York, March 26 (AP)—Bob Foxworth, a 20-year-old Negro amateur light heavyweight with professional polish and a powerful punch, had the fight experts buzzing today over his impressive showing in the 19th annual inter-city Golden Gloves contests.

The Golden Gloves classic has produced its share of world's boxing kings including Joe Louis and Barney Ross, and the ringwise observers among the 19,216 customers who packed Madison Square Garden last night to see the westerners beat the eastern team 10-6 are agreed that Foxworth is the boy most likely to succeed among the 1946 contestants.

Showing plenty of class as he stalked Robert Isler, of New York, around the ring for the first two rounds of their championship clash, the 175-pound East St. Louis, Ill., typist caught up with his eastern rival in the third frame and flattened him with a dynamic right to the chin. Time, 1:10.

The western champions and alternates shared equally in the contest, each division winning five fights and losing three. The westerners swept the lightweight and middleweight bouts and dropped both welterweight settees to the easterners. It was the west squad's 11th triumph in 19 contests. Three of the tournaments have ended in 8-3 ties and the New Yorkers have won five.

San Diego, Calif., March 26 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox batted around—literally and figuratively—by the Pittsburgh Pirates in seven of nine games, meet the Buccos again today in the finale of a five-game stand here. Yesterday, the Sox dropped a 5-4 scrap to the Pirates when Ralph Kiner, sensational Pirate rookie, slammed a 440-foot ninth inning homer with Jeep Handley on base. The Sox booted in the other three Pirate tallies.

Barons To Tackle Pittsburgh Hornets

(By The Associated Press)

The Cleveland Barons, who won the American Hockey league championship last year, begin the second phase of their bid to retain their crown when they tackle the Pittsburgh Hornets in the opening game of a best-of-three series in Cleveland tonight.

Cleveland, which finished third in the western division this season qualified for the semi-final round by defeating Providence's third place eastern division Reds, two straight in their best-of-three.

Pittsburgh, runners-up in the western division, entered the semifinals by taking two of three contests from the second-place eastern division Hershey Bears.

Also scheduled for tonight is the fourth game of the best-of-seven series between the eastern and western division pennant winners—Buffalo and Indianapolis, respectively, at Indianapolis.

Buffalo copped the first two games, and the Caps the third.

KURLAND MAKES TEAM FAVORITE

By TED MEIER

New York, March 26 (AP)—Seven-foot Bob Kurland, who developed from an awkward player four years ago into one of the game's most polished performers, winds up his college basketball career tonight as the Oklahoma Aggies battle North Carolina for the NCAA championship.

Principally because of Kurland, the nation's leading scorer at 620 points, the Aggies have been installed eight-point favorites over the Tarheels in this fitting climax to the first post-war campaign.

The Cowboys, winner of 30 of 32 games and with most of last year's championship quintet back, seem confident about their chances of becoming the first team to win the national crown two straight years. Their current winning streak has reached 14.

North Carolina, winner of 29 of 33 games, defeated New York university and Ohio state to win the eastern NCAA crown while the Aggies swept aside Baylor and California to take western honors at Kansas City. The Tarheels concede the Aggies are the logical favorite, but that's about all.

Boston Amateurs Shooting For Third

Boston, March 26 (AP)—The Boston Olympics, who have won the eastern amateur hockey league championship for three years running, will be shooting for their third straight playoff title tonight when they meet the Philadelphia Falcons at the Boston garden.

In the 12-game round-robin series to date, the Olympics have won eight, lost two and tied one, while the Falcons have a record of seven wins, three losses and one tie.

If the Olympics win tonight they will represent the east against a team from the west coast for the amateur championship of the United States. If the Falcons win, a tie for the championship will result and league officials as yet are undecided on what will be done.

DICKEY'S LEGS BAD

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 26 (AP)—Bill Dickey's chances of catching a full quota of games for the Yankees this year, despite his 38 years and his long siege in the navy, do not appear quite so bright as they did up to a week ago. He is having difficulty getting his legs in shape.

RADNOR LOSES IN TITLE PLAY TO ALLENTOWN

By TOM SHRIVER

Harrisburg, March 26 (AP)—Allentown high's basketball team, with the eastern championship again in its possession, today needed one more victory to clinch the state crown for the second straight year.

The Canaries defeated Radnor 35-29 last night, before 10,110 fans that jammed Philadelphia's convention hall. Lanky Willie Jackson, sensational negro forward, ripped the cords for eight field goals to turn the tide for the champions.

Tonight at McKeesport's vocational high the unbeaten Homestead Steeles, triumphant in their last 26 starts, will meet the Warren Dragons for the western championship and the right to face Allentown at Philadelphia Saturday for the state crown.

By turning back Radnor for the second straight year in an eastern final coach Birney Crum's title-holders moved within a game of the state record for consecutive victories—45 wins set by Hazleton high during the 1928-29-30 seasons.

Makes 44 Straight

Closing out last year's campaign with a string of 17 victories, including a 30-28 win over Donora for the state crown, the Canaries continued unbeaten this year and made it 44 straight with last night's triumph.

The Homestead-Warren clash will be the feature clash on tonight's schedule, but two Class B games will share part of the interest with the western finals.

Fell Township and Manheim Township meet at Hershey industrial school for the eastern crown with the winner playing host to the western title-holders next Friday night. If Fell wins, the state finals will probably be played at Kingston armory, if Manheim comes through the title game will go to Lancaster.

In the west East Brady, district nine champions, meets Stonycreek Township at Punxsutawney for the western crown and a place in Friday's finale.

New York, March 26 (AP)—The big task of the basketball rule-makers, according to the consensus of a dozen or so coaches accosted here, is not to make any new rules for awhile but to arrive at uniform interpretations of the old ones.

The "act of shooting" definition is just one of many things that puzzle the pilots who take their teams into various sectors.

Doc Carlson of Pitt.; Elmer Ripley, who returns to Georgetown from Notre Dame next season; Harry Rabenhorst of Louisiana State and John Bunn, former Stanford coach now at Springfield college, were among those who agreed that the thing to do was to gather officials from all sections, stage demonstrations and then, by a give-and-take process, arrive at uniform interpretations.

"When I first went west the officiating was bad," Bunn explained. "So we got the coaches and officials around a table at an early-season game—before they had time to get mad about anything—and talked over the details. The improvement was remarkable."

FINE FOOD

The Cleveland Indians' Lou Boudreau, recognized as a champ for his size in the knife and fork league, took a flying start on the shrimp cocktails when prey Will Harridge of the American league tossed a party in Clearwater, Fla., the other day.

On his fifth, Lou shouted to the boss: "Mr. Harridge, I'm taking out that $50 fine you handed me three years ago in shrimp tonight. Okay?" Harridge beckoned a waiter and said: "Boy, bring

SPORTS BEFORE YOUR EYES

The National Baseball Congress has spent more than $10,000 preparing for its nation-wide registration day for sandlot ball players next Saturday.

Contrary to reports hereabouts, coach Ben Carnevale hasn't officially left the North Carolina U. basketball team, Ben has had offers from several Ivy league colleges, but as long as he's in the navy he can't say yes or no.

Barney Berlinger, the former de-cathlon champion, is the No. 1 bait easter on the Pennsylvania Fish and Game association team.

The all-Ohio Class "A" high school basketball team averaged six feet, one and one-half inches in height. Attention, college coaches who have been looking over the Indiana material . . . four of the first five players were seniors, too.

PIONEER SPIRIT
If you're sure 'twill work, go to it! Try it often; you may do it.
Wrong the first time, try the second; Failure's not so quickly reckoned.
Don't sit down a beaten, glum thing;
Every failure teaches something.
Right way? You may come upon it, Staying with it, working on it!
If you've caught a gleam, pursue it! You may find there's something to it.
Into mazes it may lead you; Barriers fearsome may impede you; Strange occurrences disturb you; Accidents beset and curb you, But keep at it! It's by chances In discovery man advances.
If you think it, work to prove it! Mountain'd stop you? Faith may move it!
Go beyond the printed pages; Pay no heed to scoffing sages; Many a smart man's hurtful jeering,
With success, has turned to cheering.
Get out there, a stout forerunner! Don't you be a "can't-be-doner!"

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

HARMONY
I went on a walking tour with my field glasses that I might intimately study what birds I might encounter. Studying these nervous creatures, at close range, is a most fascinating pleasure. One thing about these birds that strikes my fancy is the perfect harmony of their feathered covering. There is not a false note to be discovered.
Women who delight in combination of colors would do well to study the coats, and combination of colors with which Nature has so marvelously clothed its feathered friends. In the bird world it is the male that struts his proud beauty about, but that should not deter the female of our human species from exacting gain from these colorful creatures who ply the air.
Not only are all these colorings of the birds harmonious, as they are borne on their bodies, but they are in harmony with the flowers, the trees, the grass, and in fact all Nature. Which goes to prove that God never meant for human beings to quarrel among themselves, but to live in harmony. He never meant that colors and races should fight one another, or he would have created them all the same in color and race.
All Nature is harmonious. When untouched or not disfigured by man, all landscapes are perfect.
At birth, all the many intricate organs of the human body work in perfect harmony. And they continue to do so often for a long time after much abuse and lack of intelligent care. Sooner or later, however, the human body rebels at anything that disturbs its harmonious working. So does the mind, beset by worries and distresses.
Hatred, jealousy, greed—these are the great poisons that are saturating the world today and cheating it of its deserved harmony. Education against these growing poisons in the human heart is "the one last best hope of earth." We can easily imagine what two billions of dollars spent upon educating our youth in the ways of harmonious peace can accomplish; but who can predict the consequences, in the expenditure of a like sum, in the proposed atomic "experiments" in the beautiful Pacific?
How ironic to stage such a scene in the Pacific Ocean! How out of harmony with the noblest of American ideals, this display of diabolical waste and ruin!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Life's True Necessities"

Death of Col. Buehler: The death of Col. C. H. Buehler, which occurred early Tuesday morning, was a great surprise and shock to many of his friends. Death was due to pernicious anemia.

Colonel Buehler was particularly devoted to the Battlefield Memorial association. He was one of the originators of the social Monday club, and the last meeting of each year was held regularly at his home.

Col. C. H. Buehler was born in Gettysburg, the next to the youngest of the eleven children of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Buehler, February 9, 1825. He went to Gettysburg college going as far as the close of the sophomore year. He learned the printing trade in the office of the Adams Sentinel, and at the close of his apprenticeship he became associated with his brother, the late David A. Buehler in the publication of the Star. He continued in this business until compelled by impaired health to relinquish it in 1858, when he embarked in the coal and lumber trade, in which he has remained until the present time. At the breaking out of the Rebellion he entered the Union Army as captain. He was commissioned Colonel of the 165th Regiment December 25, 1862. Returning to Gettysburg, he continued the business in which he had been interested before the war and became the agent for the Adams Express company. In 1860 in York he married Miss Anna Fahnestock, with whom one son, Harry P. Buehler, survives him.

There's a time for everything, but to save your time and money on a spring suit, call on J. D. Lippy, Merchant Tailor, 43 Main street, Gettysburg.

H. S. Thomas and brother, of Latimore township, are fitting up wagons and making other arrangements for the conveyance of themselves and families to Colorado.

Mrs. Simon Diller visited her daughter, Mrs. Harry Pfaff in Hanover.

James Wilson and George Fleming have returned to the Soldiers' Home at Hampton, Va.

J. Harry Slaybaugh, of Milwaukee, Wis., is spending his annual vacation with his father in Straban township.

Thaddeus S. Clarkson, of Nebraska, who will likely succeed General Walker as Commander-in-Chief of the G. A. R., was born in Gettysburg.

Andrew B. Potts, the dealer of Mechanicsburg, and his clerk, Sarah J. Garretson, spent Sunday here at Jacob J. Young's, on East Middle street.

JACKSON DAY DINNER OPENS RICE CAMPAIGN

Harrisburg, March 26 (AP)—Active campaigning gets under way this week in Pennsylvania's 1946 political contests—pointed up sharply by the dramatic firing from Governor Martin's cabinet of John U. Shroyer, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor.

The four slated candidates of the Democratic organization open their campaign formally this evening at a Jackson Day dinner at Harrisburg. Only one of them, Col. John S. Rice, Gettysburg, Democratic candidate for governor, has opposition at the May 21 primary.

Rice's opponent is Henry Arthur Morris, Mahanoy City business man. Running with Rice on the organization ticket are U. S. Senator Joseph F. Guffey for re-election; State Senator John H. Dent, for lieutenant governor and Al Schmid, Philadelphia, blinded marine hero, for secretary of internal affairs.

Shroyer, who has the backing of the "new guard" headed by William H. Harman, Philadelphia industrialist, said yesterday at his home in Shamokin he would address a veterans meeting at Philadelphia tonight.

Says Support Promised
Shroyer said the veterans were from Philadelphia, Chester, Bucks, Delaware and Montgomery counties and all had pledged their aid in his campaign.

Governor Martin and his long-time friend and war "buddy" of Spanish-American war days, parted company last week in a dispute over Shroyer's candidacy for Governor against Attorney General James H. Duff, choice of the governor and other party leaders for the nomination. Carl E. Mau, Marcus Hook editor, is a third candidate for the GOP gubernatorial nomination.

Urges Flood Control Dams Above Warren

St. Louis, March 26 (AP)—Location of the next in the series of flood control dams in western Pennsylvania on the Allegheny river above Warren is urged by Capt. William B. Rodgers, president of the Pittsburgh coal exchange.

Speaking yesterday at a preliminary session of the Mississippi Valley association convention here, Rodgers said a flood control barrier should also be erected on the Clarion river. An existing dam, he said, was built for electric power purposes.

Consolidation Files First Report

Pittsburgh, March 26 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal company, in its first annual report to stockholders today showed a net income of $5,167,655 for 1945.

The company was formed November 23, 1945, by a merger of the Pittsburgh Coal company, which earned $3,309,050 in 1944, and the Consolidation Coal company, which earned $2,282,934 in that year.

The 1945 report includes Consolidation Coal operations from January 1 through November 30, Pittsburgh Coal operations for the entire year, and operations of the merged companies for December.

Production of the two companies last year from 43 mines in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Kentucky was 25,951,367 tons, including that mined by lessees. The joint 1944 production of the firms was more than 27,400,000 tons. The report said 1945 "production was adversely affected at the mines of both companies by local and general work suspensions and high absenteeism."

SAYS REDS WILL WIPE OUT U.S.

Philadelphia, March 26 (AP)—George H. Earle, former Democratic governor of Pennsylvania, who says he plans to lecture in the U. S. on "The frightful menace of Russia," asserts the Soviet's demand for veto power will make the United Nations organization "a complete washout."

Earle, who once served as U. S. Minister to Bulgaria and Naval Attache in Turkey, told newsmen Sunday he was "absolutely certain" that when the Russians are able to manufacture the atomic bomb in quality and quantity they will wipe the American people off the face of the earth.

Cites Jews Again
The former navy commander, recently married to a 23-year-old Belgian beauty—his second wife, said 15,000,000 persons—"half of them Jews"—are in Russian concentration camps "because they disagree with the Bolshevik government."

"Hitler hated Jews because they were Jews," Earle asserted. "But Stalin hates them because they are individualists. What he wants is sheep."

ERIE SURGEON DIES
New York, March 26 (AP)—Dr. Maxwell J. Lick, 62, surgeon and chief of staff of the Hamot hospital, Erie, Pa., died early today in his room in the Waldorf-Astoria hotel.

Police said Dr. Lick, who lived at 148 West 8th street, Erie, had suffered from a heart ailment and came to New York several days ago for a rest.

FIGHT FOR UAW PRESIDENCY IS NEAR SHOWDOWN

By MAX HALL
Atlantic City, N. J., March 26 (AP)—The spirited battle for the leadership of the CIO Auto Workers Union—the nation's largest union—nearly a showdown today with both sides claiming an edge in the contest.

The issue, however, will be settled tomorrow when 2,000 delegates vote on whether to keep R. J. Thomas as president or to replace him with Walter Reuther.

More fireworks were expected today on the convention floor, where yesterday's session was thrown into an uproar by a sudden but futile attempt on the part of the Reuther supporters to force a debate between the two candidates.

Thomas issued a folder which made a further assault on Reuther's leadership of the General Motors' strike. Thomas praised the "guile" of the strikers but said Reuther showed "unscrupulous irresponsibility." He said Reuther's wage demand on General Motors threw a "bombshell" into the whole CIO postwar strategy, which, he added, was to "apply the pressure" through steel rather than the auto industry.

Charges Mud-Slinging
Reuther, UAW vice-president, replied that Thomas lacked courage because he refused a challenge to a debate with him.

Reuther then accused his opponents of "mud-slinging and character assassination," said he didn't want to be president if he had to resort to such tactics, and devoted most of his speech to outlining a program for the union.

In so doing, he got in a resounding whack at AFL leaders, declaring that "I think some day we're going to free the AFL rank and file from those bureaucrats."

Seattle, March 26 (AP)—Joe Shook a bus driver, got a traffic ticket when he parked his car on a downtown street. He left it in a bus loading zone.

Water Company Seeking Injunction

Pittsburgh, March 26 (AP)—The Punxsutawney water company in an appeal to the Pennsylvania supreme court yesterday asked for reinstatement of an injunction to prevent strip mining in a watershed where part of its water supply is obtained. A preliminary injunction was granted last October 16, but dissolved 11 days later.

The company's suit named Joseph O. Baricks, trading as the Lee Hollow Coal Co.; Paul Duff and W. C. and Cloy S. Sheesley, property owners in Bell township, Clearfield county; and the Edmie Coal Co., a Phillipsburg corporation which owns coal on the Sheesley land.

It declared acid mine water draining from operations of the defendants into Clover Run will destroy pipes and equipment and pollute water.

SOMERVELL NEW KOPPERS HEAD

Pittsburgh, March 26 (AP)—Koppers Co., Inc., yesterday announced election of General Brehon B. Somervell, commander of army service forces in World War II, as its president.

Somervell, who supervised procurement and distribution of fighting materials during the war, will succeed J. P. Williams, Jr. Williams has been serving as chairman and president since the death of J. T. Turney in 1944. He will continue as chairman.

The 54-year-old general will assume his duties here about May 1. At Ocala, Fla., where he is vacationing, Somervell declared himself "delighted."

CHANGE POSTS OF DIPLOMATS

Washington, March 26 (AP)—President Truman carried out a two-way diplomatic shift today which placed new stress on the importance this country attaches to the United Nations organization.

The Chief Executive designated John G. Winant to be American representative on the UNO Economic and Social council and W. Averell Harriman to succeed Winant as ambassador to Britain.

Meanwhile, Lt. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith headed for Moscow by plane to fill the post Harriman vacated several weeks ago when he resigned as Ambassador to Russia.

Government officials and diplomats cited Winant's long-rumored appointment as evidence that the United States has hopes for the economic and social council as great as those for the better advertised UNO General assembly and the all-powerful security council.

These officials recalled Winant's fight for social legislation as a three-time Republican governor of New Hampshire; his work as head of the first Federal Social Security board under President Roosevelt, and his terms as assistant director and director of the International Labor office.

Harriman's appointment, announced by the White House late

A load of common and medium western feeder steers offered that sold in small lots $10-13.25, these averaged from 525-710 pounds.

CALVES—Continued broad demand on the part of local and outside buyers created an active trading session in the vealer and weighty slaughter calf section today. EXTRA HELP TO COMBAT RABIES

Harrisburg, March 26 (AP)—The state Agriculture department today reported it has assigned at least a half dozen special dog law enforcement agents to Luzerne county to help put a state-ordered county-wide rabies quarantine into effect.

A department spokesman said the special agents probably will go to the county "within a few days" to help "take care of the situation."

Agriculture Secretary Miles Horst ordered the 180-day dog quarantine March 14 after announcing the continued prevalence of "serious rabies situation." Twenty-two cases of rabies have been reported in the county so far this year.

Under the quarantine, every dog, licensed or unlicensed, found running at large without a proper muzzle may be killed on sight by police or dog law enforcement agents. Owners are required to keep their dogs securely confined at all times and exercise them on leashes.

Horst, announcing local authorities have promised full cooperation in enforcing the quarantine, said "I am pleased with the fine spirit of cooperation shown" and added he expected the situation to be brought under control during the 180-day period.

DARK POWER

BY ELISABETH HOLDING

Chapter 23

Diana remained silent, motionless, infinitely withdrawn from the woman beside her. A measureless sorrow weighed upon her, something beyond the natural grief and pity she must feel at hearing the story of her mother's death.

"Am I—like that?" she thought. "Not able to face life as it really is? I've managed to get on—without very much, but I've always thought there was something better round the next corner. . . . And suppose there isn't? Suppose there's never going to be any more for me—than this?"

All the anxieties, the bewildered distress of her childhood, came back upon her now. And as a young girl there had been no dances, no pretty clothes, no good times; she had had to be her father's "pal," he had taken her with him where he wanted to go, had lived as it suited him.

Only those months with Angelina had been happy, in spite of the strange and varied duties. She had loved Angelina; she had been alive there, energetic, alert, gaining every day in self-confidence.

"I don't think anyone could ever care much for me," she thought.

"Now!" said Aunt Emma's voice, startling her in her bitter reverie. "Don't stay in here any longer, Diana."

For a moment Diana did not move. Then, suddenly and sharply, something awoke in her; something that had brought her gallantly through all her young life. She straightened her shoulders, and sighed again, a long sigh, as if she were waking from a dream.

After all, it didn't matter whether life were hard or not, whether it were lonely and anxious.

"I don't have to be happy," she thought. "I've just got to do the best I can. I'm not down and out yet! I'll—"

There was a knock at the door. "Emma!" said Uncle Peter's voice, apologetically. "There's a taxi-driver here, asking for a young lady. Shall I pay him—?"

"No!" said Diana. "He won't go, anyhow. I told him to wait."

"Very well!" said Aunt Emma. "Then you'd better go."

She crossed the room, and opened the door, and Diana followed her.

"Please wait a moment, Aunt Emma!" she said. "I want to speak to you."

"Peter, tell the driver she'll be down in a few moments," said Aunt Emma. "Now!"

The door was open and the dim light in the corridor shone into the room. She heard Uncle Peter running down the stairs.

"Well?" asked Aunt Emma. "I want to ask you—"

"where Mr. Fennel is."

"I'm sorry I can't tell you," Aunt Emma answered. "But no doubt the police will find him before very long."

"No, I don't believe that," said Diana briefly. "Something's happened to him."

"Then take it to the police," said Aunt Emma. "You'd better do that, anyhow. You'll feel easier. Tell the police that we've murdered Fennel."

And Wren, too, isn't it? And that we are now engaged in murdering Uncle Rufus. And any others you feel worried about."

Diana reflected for a moment. She chose her words with care. "Aunt Emma," she said, "if I'm to have Uncle Rufus's money, and you want to share it, I'll have to know about Mr. Fennel."

"You've already promised me a share," said Aunt Emma. "But no doubt you are always able to find satisfactory jurisdiction for breaking your word."

"I'll make a bargain with you," she said.

"I'm afraid," said Aunt Emma, "that making a bargain with you is rather uncertain."

"Then you could make a bargain?" said Diana, quickly. "You do know what's happened to him?"

"That's quite intelligent!" said Aunt Emma, in a tone of pleased surprise. "You must be considerably interested in this man, to wake up so."

"I am," said Diana.
